Golf News

Something Catch Your Eye?

Something definitely caught ours when we were researching golf news for this issue – we almost choked on our coffee when we stumbled across Eye Candy Caddies, based in Middlesex. Not only do their caddies exhibit perfect behaviour on the green, with their pristine uniforms, golf etiquette and radiant smiles, but they are models too. What's more, many of them are actually interested in golf – with one of the lovely ladies boasting a handicap of two! This innovative golf service caters to a variety of clients, from corporate outings to lively stag do's. And it's not just the boys who benefit, as Eye Candy caddies also supply strapping young men for the ladies to drool over. All's fair in love and golf, we say. A round of golf with a piece of Eye Candy costs £160 upwards. Money well spent.
